MYERS STANDS IN THE WAY. VERDICT OF THE VATICAN.

He May Prevent Appointment of the New Board of Record.

The Law Is Found to Be Permissive and Not Mandatory.

Myers' return is anxiously awaited by constituents for office, who are deeply concerned as to his probable action in regard to the law authorizing him to appoint a Board of Record. Acting Major Arnold discovered that the law is permissive, and not mandatory, has alarmed the place-hunters, who are fearing lest the Major exercise his discretion and decline to make the appointments at present.

The uneasiness of the politicians is more particularly due to Comptroller Myers' opposition to the bill. The financial officer of the city says that if his provisions are carried out it will involve an expenditure of $1,000,000. Before he knew that the enforcement of the measure was optional he denounced it as inequitable, useless and extravagant legislation. Now, however, since he finds that the provisions are not compulsory, the place-hunters are relieved by the $1 each month to be paid to the Major for his services in removing the religious restrictions on him that the State now places upon him, they remain quiet and let him do his work.

Archbishop Corrigan will not receive an official copy of the Minutes of the Vatican on the subject for some days, but the canon clerics of the Holy See have been informed.

It appears that the Vatican decision is that the law is permissive, and not mandatory.

The Pope's decision and the letter to Archbishop Ryan announcing the decision, as well as the minutes of the Board of Record, are to be submitted to the Board of Record.

Mr. Myers' stand in that respect will have doubtless given the place-hunters a severe blow, because if his return is delayed the Commissioners of Record cannot appoint the array of clerks it is said they propose to employ, and without clerks there would be a useless commission, as the law provides that they shall merely supervise the work.

This work is to be the redacting of the records in the Register's office, under the direction of the Board of Record, and the Clerks of the Court.

With the exception of the original of the stock system, and Assistant in Record mentioned for appointment as Commissioner, the other clerks are to be appointed by the Board of Record.

The Board of Record will receive the $100,000 a year, and the expenses of the office will be paid by the Board of Record.

It is to be noted that the work planned out for the Board of Record could easily be done by the Register's clerks.

THE PATTI FESTIVAL.

First Concert of the Series at Madison Square Garden.

The first of the Patti Festivals was given in the Madison Square Garden last night. The cake walk and the curtain-draw lighted crowds, but the audience was large enough to fill the management, and the upper tiers were almost filled. The diva sang as she always does, sweetly and well, though a smile of hers writhing the muscles, her lips quivering, and her hands shaking with nervousness.

Next she sang in a strain of pathos, and then in a strain of severity, "The Last Days of Pompeii," which aroused shudders in the audience.

During the intermission, the work planned out for the Board of Record could easily be done by the Register's clerks.
